HARDY PERENNIALS FOR FALL PLANTING

If we did not think that the fall was an opportune time to plant these flowers, we would not submit you this offer. But you will note that some varieties are omitted, because they should only be planted in the spring.

To some degree we prefer fall planting, because (1) one can see the bare spaces, (2) we have more time, and (last, which is the most important factor) it means the advantage of a whole year.

It must be borne in mind, though, that all planting should be done before October 15th, as the plants must make an entire new set of roots, with which to grip the soil and anchor the plant safely for the winter. The sooner they can be transplanted, the greater the guarantee for absolute success.

We are ready to make immediate shipment.

As we gave such complete descriptions in our Spring Book, we do not think it necessary to repeat them here.

JAPANESE IRIS

- No. 1. Pure white.
- No. 2. Pansy violet.
- No. 3. Cotinga purple.
- No. 4. White and violet veined; yellow centre.
- No. 5. Mottled crimson purple with a yellow centre.
- No. 6. Hortense violet streaked with white veins; yellow centre.
- No. 7. White with canary yellow centre.
- No. 8. Color the same as No. 2 only the broad petals form into a large flat head on a spike nearly 3 feet tall, giving a very dignified appearance.
- No. 9. This dwarf variety grows only 1¾ feet, which accounts for its popularity in the rock garden. The petals of violet purple splashed with yellow are so arranged as to resemble a rosette.
- No. 10. Pure violet with golden centre.
- No. 11. Creamy white, delicately veined with violet.
- No. 12. Aniline blue veined white with yellow centre.
- No. 13. This late variety has a massive bloom of snowy white well veined with a yellow centre. It is extremely beautiful and as a cut flower makes a wonderful contrast for Nos. 2, 8, 10 and 15.
- No. 14. Ground color white, beautifully traced and marbled with ultramatim blue.
- No. 15. Mulberry purple and primulin yellow centre. One of the best, deep and rich in color.
- No. 16. Late white densely spotted violet blue.
- No. 17. White and violet veined; yellow centre.
- No. 18. Rich velvety pansy violet.
- No. 19. A splendid pure white.
- No. 20. White ground, densely spotted with bright violet purple.

All of the foregoing have been selected for their elegant markings and shading and their size; they all have six flower petals.

Each, $0.35; doz., $3.50; per 100, $25.00

ASSORTED JAPANESE IRIS

We have a very fine stock; good, strong plants which will flower next season. They have all been raised from seed and are very good varieties. Assorted colors only.
